Harnest, was surprised by his many friends on Friday evening at his home on North Lincoln avenue. A very enjoyable evening was spent in playing games and dancing. Music was furnished.

Miss Mary Rooney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Rooney, died on Saturday evening at the home of her parents, on Lafayette street. Miss Rooney was 27 years of age, and a young lady esteemed and loved by all her acquaintances. Typhoid fever was the cause of her death. The funeral will be held this morning at 9 o'clock. A solemn high mass of requiem will be conducted in St. Patrick's church. This evening's meeting of the members of the Hyde Park Literary and Debating society will from present indications prove of unusual interest. Some weeks ago a committee was appointed by the society to consider the advisability of establishing a university extension course on this side. The committee reported favorably and resolutions were put in circulation in the interest of the movement. The course, however, does not seem to meet popular approval and the petitions are not granted with the autographs of many persons and the guarantee is not even warranted to the conductors of the movement. At this evening's meeting a discussion will be held as to whether the course should be inaugurated under the present conditions or not. A debate will be continued on the Crawford county system of nominating party candidates. The effects of Tammany Hall and kindred political organizations will be considered. Member John House, who formerly resided in New York city, and who was accused of having written the "Comrades in Battle," and "The Kiecher in Love," Mrs. Ledsham, of Dickson city, sang "The Handwriting of the Wall," singing an aria with the choir in the chorus. Rev. Dr. Hawhurst and Rev. George E. Gaid, led in prayer. Mr. Bliss then told those who had become converted during the meetings not to delay joining a church not to be discouraged because things were not perfect for nothing is perfect. He then announced as his text (in 42 verse of the 21st chapter of Isaiah), "Look unto Me and be ye saved all the ends of the earth for I am God and none else." At the end of the sermon the Y. M. C. Glee club sang "Waiving with God," after which Mr. Bliss thanked the pastors who were present for their hearty cooperation with him, the choir and the organist and leader, Thelie Morgan, for the aid they rendered and also all who in a manner aided him. He asked all who were blessed by the meetings to arise whether they were Christians or not and most of those present arose. He then invited all who would like to lead a Christian life to arise and continued the invitation while the choir sang "Just as I Am," a large number of converts were made. After the meeting was held at which a large number of those present remained. A large number of testimonies and prayers were directed to the end of which at the suggestion of Rev. M. D. Fuller the benediction was given. A large number of converts were made. All those present then arranged themselves in lines and shook hands with Mr. Bliss and his wife.

Thomas and Cannon masqueraded as the names of J. and A. White. They secured work at the Stevens colliery in West Pittston. On Friday, Sept. 21, Moran and Cannon visited Strumerville, in company with a fellow boarder, Cormac McMonigal, whose parents live in Hazleton. They drank freely and at a late hour Moran and Cannon separated from McMonigal and walked from Strumerville to the Lehigh Valley station at Pittston and near the Lackawanna and Bloomsburg Junction attempted to board a rapidly moving coal train. Moran was dragged several hundred yards, and at length his body was ground to pieces under the wheels. Cannon was also dragged, but fell to the side of the track and rolled into the ditch where he laid unconscious until morning. When Moran's remains were gathered up, in one of his pockets was found a store book filled out in the names of Cormac and McMonigal. The Pittston police notified McMonigal's folks, but their delay in answering rendered it necessary to inter the body, which was done at the expense of the Pittston Poor district. Later McMonigal turned up and that dissipated the belief that it was he who had been killed, but he informed the police who the dead man was; and Moran's relatives, as before stated, seeing the facts in the Pittston column of THE TRIBUNE, investigated and found that it was John Moran who had been killed. The remains were exhumed and further identified, and brought home for interment.

SOUTH SIDE JOTTINGS.

Miss Nellie Kearns, of Pear street, has recovered from a serious attack of illness, which was at one time regarded as fatal. John B. O'Malley and Richard Sheridan, delegates to the Young Men's institute at Louisville, returned home Saturday morning. Mrs. Herman Senker, of Stone avenue, has returned from a visit to her husband, who is undergoing an operation at the Undergraduate hospital, New York.

The picnic of the Sunday school of the Cedar Avenue Methodist Episcopal church on Saturday to Mountain lake was well enjoyed by the children and their parents. The "young element" of the Twentieth ward is about to organize a Democratic club, and a meeting for the purpose will be called Wednesday evening at Dr. Manley's hall. James Moran, of 1512 Cedar avenue, died yesterday evening from an illness with which he had been ailing for two months. He was 54 years of age, and leaves a wife and three children. The funeral will take place at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning, at a high mass of requiem at St. John's church. The remains will be taken to Hawley for interment.

A Poleander living on Bloom avenue was seriously injured on Saturday morning by a fall of rock while working in the Cayuga shaft. Mrs. Jane Williams and Mrs. Thomas E. Stahl preached a temperance sermon yesterday morning in the Green Ridge Presbyterian church. The Women's Christian Temperance union, of Green Ridge, attended in a body.

Anna Furst, the 17-year-old daughter of Martin Furst, of Park Place, died yesterday morning at 9 o'clock. She had been ill for eight months before her death. The funeral will be held on Saturday morning at 10:30 at St. Mary's German Catholic church on the South Side, and interment will be made in St. Joseph's cemetery. Saturday morning at an early hour an entrance was forced into the cellar of Geo. Archibald's store on West Market street and then went into the cellar of the saloon of Edward Loftus and then into the bath room. The intruders tapped the dial which contained about $9 or $7 and also took a few cigars and an old brush that was lying around.

The Sunday school of the Green Ridge Baptist church held its annual rally yesterday afternoon. The exercises were in charge of the superintendent, Colonel Hitchcock, and consisted of songs in the primary department and also the whole school. The intruders tapped the dial which contained about $9 or $7 and also took a few cigars and an old brush that was lying around. The many friends of Rev. J. V. Newell, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church at Throop, were glad to see him present here at the quarterly meeting yesterday. The Rev. Gentleman was pastor here ten years ago. He has passed through a very severe illness a few months ago, but is so far recovered as to again be able to enter the work of the church.

Otto Bresser and Owen Flynn and son had a delightful time fishing and traveling through Wayne county last week. They were at Maplewood, Keisers and other parts of the county. They speak in the highest terms of the scenery and the hospitality of the people along the way. They spent some time viewing from the summit of the Moosic mountains. Mr. Flynn's health has been benefited very much by the trip and they were fortunate in catching a fine lot of fish.

The praise service continued for nearly one hour and besides the hymns sung by the choir the Young Men's Christian association glee club, presented the immense audience with their fine rendition of "Comrades in Battle," and "The Kiecher in Love." Mrs. Ledsham, of Dickson city, sang "The Handwriting of the Wall," singing an aria with the choir in the chorus. Rev. Dr. Hawhurst and Rev. George E. Gaid, led in prayer. ALL IN SCHOOL AGAIN.

Now For Another Winter of Hard Brain Work.

Education is Often Obtained at the Expense of Nerve force.

Parents Study the Problem of Keeping Up the Health at School.

School has been open nearly a month. The streets are crowded with "shining morning faces," full of eagerness and ambition. Anxiety of parents begins. Will these young boys and girls stand the nervous strain? Every year thousands of bright and energetic boys and girls are fatally injured by the indiscrimination and excessive school work. Pale lips, languor, little eagerness for play, irritability, and loss of strength, show that the close application is making sad inroads upon their health. There should be no delay in building up the child's system, and feeding the straggling nerves with Paine's celery compound. Parents find their children quickly gain strength and color and increased weight from this remarkable nerve food. It is peculiarly fitted to the needs of their weakened powers of digestion and assimilation.

During the school year thousands of children pursuing studies with an ambitious eagerness altogether out of keeping with their strength, have been enabled to keep in school and at work and to recover health and nerve strength by a careful use of Paine's celery compound, first prescribed by Dartmouth's great professor, Edward E. Phelps, M. D., LL. D. Parents who have studied the problem of how to build up their children's health while at school have found that Paine's celery compound brought vigor and strength by keeping the blood pure and the nerves and tissues richly nourished. Physicians in all parts of the country earnestly recommend Paine's celery compound to parents.
